

BIG DINNER MONDAY TO AID BIG BOOST

Chamber of Commerce will Have Prominent Speaker Give Advice.

A "COMMERCIAL EVANGELIST"

Is the Popular Title of Edward F. Trefz of Chicago, Who Will Tell on Monday How to Put Connellville on the Map and Keep It There.

Invitations for the citizens' Greater Connellville Dinner to be given by the Chamber of Commerce, has the forerunner of a movement for a greater city through a greater Chamber of Commerce were sent out by that organization this morning. The meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, Monday night, and will be preceded by a dinner which will begin promptly at 6.30 o'clock.

For the principal speaker of the evening, the invitations announce that the Chamber has secured Edward F. Trefz, of Chicago. Mr. Trefz has been for many years an active worker in the Chicago Association of Commerce, and is regarded as one of the best authorities in the country on city development and civic betterment work. To his practical experience, Trefz adds the power and magnetism of a remarkable orator. His stirring speeches on these subjects have gained for him the title of "Commercial Evangelist," and he is known from coast to coast.

He has chosen as his subject, "How to Put Our Town on the Map and Keep It There." This subject is particularly fitting in view of what an engaged Chamber of Commerce can do for this city. Connellville does not occupy the place on the map it should with its many advantages and the Chamber of Commerce believes it should make an effort to put it there. Every citizen and business concern in the city will be asked to be in the movement. In the recreation of the Chamber of Commerce, a place will be provided for every citizen to do his part. Besides the speech by Mr. Trefz, several other addresses will be made by leading citizens of the city. The whole evening will be devoted to outlining plans for the reorganization of the Chamber and a renewal of interest in a bigger and better city.

It is an accepted fact that the people of a town write the destiny of that town, whether it shall go forward or backward, and that they write it through a central development organization like the Chamber of Commerce. It is also a well known fact that money alone will not make a Chamber of Commerce properly efficient. A membership made up of representatives of every business, profession and industry in the organization a standing and influence that money alone can not give.

Trefz's speeches have had a wonderful effect in reviving interest in development work, such as the election of any city should do for it. He spoke to a meeting of the Chambers Board of Trade last November, and the whole city became so interested in "boosting" that within a week the membership had been increased to more than 500. This is in spite of the fact that the annual dues were increased from $6.00 to $25.00.

The meeting and dinner Monday night will be informal, it being planned that the business men go direct to the auditorium from their places of business.

CITY BEAUTIFUL MOVEMENT STARTS IN S. CONNELLVILLE

Street Commissioner J. K. Pierce is Getting the Mud Off the Streets.

With the approach of spring the people of South Connellville have started a "City Beautiful" movement in the shape of improving the streets, alleys and school house yards. Street Commissioner J. K. Pierce, in charge. Ten men and two teams are at work on the streets now and making good progress.

Pittsburgh has been cleaned of its mud from one thorough limit to the other. The street commissioner ordered the mud hauled to the school house yard. Grass will be sown this spring and flower beds made. It is expected to outfit the school children in the fight for a "City Beautiful."

The unclean alleys and dirty back yards are all coming under the surveillance of the street commissioner and the health officer and stringent measures will be taken to keep the town free from filth. All the streets are being ditched.

Since the rain and storm much of the work must be done over again.

SIX PATIENTS

Admitted to Cottage State Hospital for Treatment.

Six new patients were admitted this morning to the Cottage State hospital. Mrs. Sarah Dettler of Connellville was operated on for gall stones. She stood the operation as well as could be expected.

John W. Long was admitted for treatment of an old injury. Some time ago he suffered a fracture of the left arm.

Mrs. Anna Jones is thought to be suffering from appendicitis. An operation will likely be performed.

Misses Elizabeth and Virginia Monroe of Kingwood, W. Va., and Thomas Zimmerman of Morgantown were operated on for throat trouble.

MISS MABEL ROSBORO WILL WED IN WASHINGTON MONDAY

Popular Young Woman of Dawson to Become Bride of Clark Chisholm.

The marriage of Miss Mabel Gladys Rosboro of Dawson and Clark M. Chisholm of Uniontown will be an event of Monday morning. The ceremony will be solemnized at 10.30 o'clock at the New Willard Hotel, in Washington, D. C. Rev. H. C. Bird of Latrobe, Md., formerly pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of Uniontown, will officiate. A wedding breakfast will be served immediately afterwards in one of the large private dining rooms of the hotel. Following the breakfast Mr. Chisholm and his bride will leave for a wedding trip including many points of interest in the West and South.

Miss Rosboro is a daughter of F. H. Rosboro of Uniontown, and the late Mrs. Mary Rosboro. She is well known and popular in Uniontown social circles, having made her home in Uniontown until the death of her mother. Since that time she has resided at Dawson. Mr. Chisholm is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Chisholm of Uniontown who will be present at the ceremony. He was educated at Kiskimuntus academy at Saleburg, Pa. Miss Rosboro accompanied by her sister, Miss Nellie Rosboro, left for the east yesterday morning. Mr. Chisholm left last night for Washington.

"PRIMPING DAY" AT HIGH; PRETTY GIRLS ARE "MUGGED"

Of Course the Boys Were in On the Photographing But They

Yesterday was "primping day" at the High School, also let it be known Photographer Suder's busy day. The occasion was the annual picture taking of the four classes for the Senior class book. But two were taken that there was plenty of gratuitous advice given to the girls by the Sophomores. The Seniors and Juniors will be taken today.

Principal Bruce U. P. Coburn, Vice Principal B. B. Smith and Photographer Suder undertook the job and they had their hands full, notwithstanding that there was plenty of gratuitous advice given to the girls by the Sophomores. The "mugging" took place along the wall on South Pittsburgh street and attracted quite a crowd.

Several times the girls arranged themselves "just as" when a fresh start was made. The girls were bent on making a job quite in the approved style and delayed the superintendents of the job several times by their "primping" efforts.

SPRING SCHOOL EXODUS WILL BEGIN TOMORROW

Students Prepare For Easter Homecoming and Social Events Are Planned.

The spring exodus from the colleges and preparatory schools will begin tomorrow. At some of the institutions the vacation is called Easter vacation and at others the spring recess. Many of Connellville's educational contingent will be home for the holidays. Many of those in far distant schools, having only a few days vacation, will not come home.

Among those away at school that will come home for Easter are: Miss Catherine O'Connor who will come Friday from the California State Normal School, Ralph Marshall and Walter Seiden of the University of West Virginia, J. Donald Reid of Lawrenceville school, Lawrenceville, N. J., who will be home Monday, James Munson and Karl Scott of the University of Michigan, Robert White, Princeton University, Charles Cecil, James Bowman, Walter Rogers and Roger Evans of State college.

A number of dances are being arranged for Easter week. Among those that will probably hold dances are the Armory and the Alumni. Several private dances will also be held.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

Condition of Mrs. Thomas Kenney Is Regarded Serious by Friends.

Mrs. Thomas Kenney of Levensburg, No. 1 was taken to the Mercy hospital for treatment last evening. Her condition is critical and little hopes are entertained for her recovery. Mrs. Kenney's illness is due to grief. Three weeks ago last Friday a favorite son, James Kenney died of injuries suffered from an accident with which he met in the mines at Baggsley.

Since the funeral, which occurred on the following Sunday, Mrs. Kenney has continually grieved over her son's death and since last Saturday she has been unable to speak.

Funeral on Saturday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Louise C. Veech will take place from the family residence, No. 115 South First street, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Frederick W. Beckman, pastor of the Episcopal church, Uniontown, will officiate. Interment in the Banning cemetery, West Side. The remains were removed today from Funerary Home J. L. Shaw's parlors to the Veech residence. Interment will be private and friends are requested to kindly omit flowers.

Blind Infant Dies.

Carl Alvin Ball, aged one year and two months, son of William and Maude Ball of Ball, died Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock. The funeral took place from the family residence this morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

MOUNTAIN STREAMS GO ON RAMPAGE; YOUGHIOGHENY RIVER AT FLOOD STAGE; TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES DERANGED.

Torrent Which Fell Last Night Turns Creeks Into Raging Torrents and Great Damage in the Region May Result—Report That Indian Creek Dam Had Given Away Causes Mild Panic and Preparations are Taken to Warn Those in Low Places—Landslides Numerous and Railroads are Badly Tangled. West Penn Railways is Worst Sufferer.

Western Pennsylvania is in the grip of the most serious flood since 1907 as the result of last night's hard driving rain, accompanied in this section by a mountain wind of intense velocity. Damage throughout this section of the State is rapid and fearful, and it is feeling the brunt of the fresher.

The Youghiogheny river is making good its name, "Dare Devil Yough," and every mountain stream has been transformed into a raging torrent. Transportation has been deranged on the trolley lines and the coke status of the region are facing a suspension because of the high water.

It was predicted by an expert in the offices of the Mountain Park Land Company, who has made tests of the Yough, that the river will go higher than the mark of 1907, when it reached between 17 and 18 feet. A stage of 19 feet is predicted. It is expected the crest of the flood will be reached this afternoon.

The river rose during the morning at the rate of one foot an hour. It rose four feet over night. At eight o'clock the gauge on the bridge here indicated a stage of 12.65. By 10 o'clock this had gone to 14.70; to 15.90 an hour later, and 16.55 at noon.

Telephone and telegraphic service has been deranged. The operations of the mines in the coke region have been impaired. Railroad service, while hindered, has not been stopped entirely although without a plan of aid slides have held up the early morning trains. The West Penn has probably had the most trouble with washouts. A party of officials from the offices here went over the line early this morning and are working to restore normal transportation conditions. Passengers are being transferred at several points and service at others has been stopped entirely.

The small streams near town have gone on a rampage and left their usual courses. Water down the Connell run has filled the valley between Prospect street and East Park addition. Mountain creek has interfered to some extent with the operations of several manufacturing plants along its course.

The unpaved streets in the residence section have been washed out entirely. Street Commissioner Stouffer has been busy since early morning trying to better conditions.

Beginning yesterday afternoon with the hard downpour of rain the Yough immediately began to rise. Last night at 6 o'clock the mark was 8.20 while the West Penn reading at 3 o'clock was 12.65. The river has been rising rapidly. It is estimated to be rising from 10 inches to a foot an hour.

Railroad traffic has not been seriously interfered with. All Baltimore & Ohio trains from the east and the P. & M. & P. branch have been running late. Train No. 1 due here from Weston, W. Va., at 7.50 this morning on the Baltimore & Ohio was delayed by a landslide at Little Falls, W. Va., for upwards of two hours. It reached here at 9.20. Minor landslides have occurred all over the road but have not interfered with the running of trains. Trains from the east were delayed at Towler, near Indian Creek, this morning by a landslide.

The Baltimore & Ohio early this morning removed a number of cabooses from the track next the river bank and transferred them to the main line tracks. The river tracks are covered with water.

The water early entered the cellar of the West Side hotel and Proprietor M. J. Roland was forced to remove much of his stock. The water has been rising steadily and is causing some apprehension among those living along the river bank. The river at noon was but 18 inches from the top of the wall at the Youghiogheny Lumber Company's plant on First street, West Side, and Manager Charles H. Wisley spent most of the time hoping it would not come higher. Should the water go over the wall, which is not improbable, it will mean total loss of a carload of plaster and cement that has just been unloaded.

LAKE ERIE ESCAPES WITH LITTLE TROUBLE; W. M. H.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie got off easy, but one serious landslide occurred on the road and that early this morning. A quantity of earth loosened by the storm covered one of the tracks near West Yough. The 6.31 train from Pittsburgh was delayed and freight traffic held up several hours. A wreck crew was sent out and the dirt removed.

Small landslides have occurred all along the road but of the Western Maryland. The earth has been newly removed and fell an easy prey to the rain and wind. The nearest slide to Connellville took place a distance beyond the Baltimore & Ohio bridge. Work has been suspended all along the line. Other slides are reported between here and Confluence.

COKE PLANTS ARE NOT SERIOUSLY HAMPERED

With the exception of washing away yard tracks and small bridges, and in some instances the flooding of ovens, the coke plants of the region have so far not been seriously hampered.

No mines, so far as reported, have River Still Rising.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the gauge showed a stage of 17.33 feet. The river is still rising and will reach its crest between 3.30 or 4 o'clock according to H. R. Drake, hydrographer for the Mountain Park Land Company, who has made a close study of the river.

The velocity of the stream is estimated at 13 to 20 feet per second.

been flooded, although all are handling an unusual quantity of water. A special survey of surface breaks have occurred. These breaks are protected as well as possible by deep trenches and except in cases of exceptional rainfall or a heavy fall of snow, no dangerous quantity of water enters the mines through these breaks.

"Spring freshets are always expected and guarded against and the inside of the mines usually suffers less than the outside. Yard tracks and local bridges on account of their location, are generally easy victims to floods, despite the measures taken to protect them."

It was reported this morning that Davidson mine, near Connellville, was flooded. This proved to be incorrect. The mine is making an unusual quantity of water, but the pumps are taking care of it and the mine will make its regular run. A report was current that one of the men had been taken out in a half-drowned condition. It developed that a driver who had been off sick and returned to work this morning, had been taken to the mine hospital. He was quickly revived and sent home.

While the mines so far are holding their own, a number are up to their pumps and drainage capacity and a further increase will undoubtedly cause a suspension of operations.

DRIFTWOOD INDICATES BIG DAMAGE IN THE MOUNTAINS.

The Youghiogheny river was filled with driftwood this morning. Thousands of feet of sawed lumber have been carried down stream, which means that the mills of that section have lost heavily. Other driftwood is being brought down, barrels, kegs, portions of bridges that have been washed away and other debris.

Heavy damage is expected below here, where gorges to the hills stand in a short distance. Below the one built by the West Penn and destroyed it also. At various places the creek swept from its course. Miners living along the banks have abandoned

WEST PENN HAS TROUBLE; TRAFFIC IS BADLY TANGLED.

The West Penn has been the worst sufferer of the railroads. Two bridges have been washed out and the service is impaired. Passengers are being transferred at some points and service is being kept up by the use of the most trouble is being encountered with Mount Creek between here and Scottdale. The little creek has gone on a rampage and is playing havoc in the coke towns along its banks.

At Connetquot, where it is washed away the bridge, recently built by the West Penn to replace the one dynamited when the ice gorges blocked the stream. Carrying the bridge with it, the water rushed on to the county bridge a short distance below the one built by the West Penn and destroyed it also. At various places the creek swept from its course. Miners living along the banks have abandoned

SLEET AND ICE IN SOMERSET; COMMUNICATION IS DIFFICULT.

SOMERSET, March 21.—Heavy sleet and ice this morning deranged telephone communication and railroad traffic. Menzies reports indicate that the storm had done great damage throughout the county. Falling wires, blown down by the high wind which raged through the night, made serious trouble.

Crossed wires set fire to the exchange of the Economy Telephone Company at this place and the opera-ed their homes at many places and have sought higher ground.

Car service on the South Connellville line has been delayed. The first car due in Connellville at 9.30 did not reach here until 8 o'clock. Cars were held up by a heavy snow and water. This morning has been coming with great force down from the hillsides leading to Solson park.

Opposite the Atlas Hotel, dirt is piled high. Under the earth pile, inhabitants this morning discovered a small bridge. Whence it came is a mystery.

At Swedtown the street car service has been suspended. The waters from Jacobs creek have backed up over the tracks and have made a rushing whirlpool. Passengers are being transferred at Thompson, where the tracks have been washed out. Between Jeanette and Irwin traffic has been suspended. Passengers are being transferred to the trolley service. From Trafford City into McKeesport the service is unimpaired.

There were four washouts on the Lawrence line not serious enough to interfere with traffic. The cross-over and "Y" under construction at Lawrenceville, avenue and Eighth street on the West Side has been damaged. Dirt and mud washed down from the hills and buried the track completely.

At Grant street, Uniontown, on the Fairchance line passengers are being transferred owing to a washout. Several of the wires blown down but they have not been in this vicinity. From Greensburg comes the report that although there was a heavy rain there was no wind. At Youngwood, operation of cars has been suspended.

J. L. Frisch, Chief Engineer, M. A. Coffey, Superintendent of Transportation, and other West Penn officials, are inspecting the road today to discover the extent of the damage.

WASHINGTON RUN HIGHER THAN EVER KNOWN BEFORE.

PERRYPOLE, Mar. 21.—According to the oldest residents of this vicinity Washington run was never higher than this morning. It is estimated that damage along the Washington Run railroad has been sufficient to keep the section force busy for a month replacing washed out culverts, cleaning up slides and repairing the roadbed. Train service has not yet been interfered with, but traffic is being operated carefully.

Along Stickel Hollow the damage has been great at many points. The Perry Manufacturing Company stated this morning that its brick plant will be closed three days because of the high water. A sand trough was carried away by the freshet and other damage done. A number of houses were damaged and Star Junction had a troublesome time of it this morning.

HEAVY IN SCOTSDALE IS PAID BY RAIN.

SCOTSDALE, Mar. 21.—All night the rain fell in torrents and this morning great damage was to be seen about town. The Chestnut street hill recently paved is an entire wreck from the first alley above D. T. Pool's down to the corner of M. E. Porter's lot. The paving is jagged and raised up in great ridges. These ridges continue down Market street, paved much earlier until that street is raised and bowed up about a foot higher than it is natural grade. There were no breaks in the paving this morning.

The Chestnut street hill will have to be repaved, the water getting under the paving and washing out the entire bed, while the bricks over proved a dam resulting in tearing up the paving. It is thought that this may have been because as far as Walnut street and continued until it reached the lower part of the hill.

All over town there are evidences of the storm, which at times raged with great violence. The wind, blowing from the west, against the windows and roofs being damaged by having shingles blown off. From reports of various persons this must have practically lasted the entire night.

Every stream about here is swollen in a torrent. Jacobs creek has overflowed Swedtown, and backed up as far as Chestnut street on the Pennsylvania railroad. The houses in Swedtown in many instances are full of water on the first floor, and in danger this morning of being carried away. No street cars have run this morning between Mt. Pleasant and Scottdale by that route.

Everson bottom is covered with water and this is rising. The houses there are almost afloat. The prospects of more rain during the day is anything but reassuring to the people.

CHILDREN WARNED OFF DANGEROUS RIVER BANK

Fearful of a tragedy the police have been notified to keep the children away from the river bank. They made a raid on the school children at 12 o'clock.

On the West Side the children are staying away from school. In two rooms in the Seventh ward building, but nine children are attending school this afternoon.

At 3 o'clock the water had climbed above the river banks at the Baltimore & Ohio shops, suspending work there.

WEST SIDE RESIDENTS START MOVING FROM LOW POINTS

Residents in the lower sections of the West Side started to move this afternoon. Connellville is inundated and the water is closing in on First and Second streets. Figures carrying suitcases and household articles were familiar throughout the day.

STOLE BICYCLE.

Approach of Spring Causes Loss of One Here.

With the near approach of spring bicycle thieves are getting busy. When one of the clerks at J. Chinters store on Water street went to his supper last night he left his machine at the curb. When he returned it was gone.

Settled the Case.

Information against Charles Works, the one-legged garbage and transfer man was withdrawn by Thomas Williams last night following an amicable agreement. Works paid the costs of the case and Williams paid the doctor's bill. Works is Williams over the head with a wagon standard when the latter dropped a dresser to the sidewalk.

tor, Miss Lottie Barron, aged 17, was saved only through heroic work of Superintendent Otto Deltz of the Somerset Telephone Company, whose office is in the same building.

A horse driven by Deputy Sheriff Andrew J. Coleman was instantly killed in front of the county jail when it stepped on an Economy telephone wire which had blown over a 1,100 volt electric light wire. Coleman thought the horse had stumbled over a mudhole. He leaped from the buggy and was saved from electrocution by the rubber sandals he wore.

The only communication with the outside world is by patched trunk lines of the Western Union Telegraph Company. Many wires of this company are also down.

WILD REPORTS CIRCULATED THAT BIG DAM WEAKENED.

Wild reports were circulated this morning that the big dam of the Mountain Water Supply Company in the Indian creek valley had weakened. No confirmation could be secured and the rumor was not credited. To observe every precaution, Connellville division officials of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad made arrangements for warning the railroad men and others who might be caught by the onrushing waters.

The operator at "NO" tower at Indian Creek was posted to wire immediately if there were signs of the dam weakening. In that event, three locomotives were stationed near the depot here would have cut loose their warning whistles. At noon the engines returned to the yards and arrangements were made to have Boys, Porter & Company and the B. & O. shops sound any necessary warning.

It is not believed the dam will give way because of its exceptionally strong construction. More than 40 inches of water was rushing over the spillway this morning, the rain having been exceptionally heavy in the mountains.

Traffic has been suspended on the Mill Creek Valley railroad. Several handcars have occurred covering the tracks and it is impossible for the trains to get through at all. President Hood has not heard the extent of the damage this morning owing to bad telephone service.

B. & O. BRIDGE AT DUNBAR REPORTED TO BE WEAKENED.

Shaken from its foundations about 500 feet above the Baltimore & Ohio bridge at Dunbar, a small frame barn owned by Andy Blalock washed down Dunbar creek and smashed against the brick building of the First National Bank of Dunbar where it is built over the stream. The barn was smashed to pieces and washed under the building until it reached the Baltimore & Ohio bridge. Reports sent to the local office stated that the bridge was in danger. Two bridge crews were sent out from here, one at 7.30 and one at 9 o'clock.

The fire in Chircosco's studio was discovered in the gallery, where the pictures are taken. The alarm 124 at Pittsburgh and Peach street was turned in at 11 o'clock. The firemen turned the attention to saving the other buildings and preventing the blaze from extending to the dark room where the chemicals are kept. If the flames had caught the dark room a serious explosion would have resulted. The loss of about $100 covered by insurance.

THIRTY FOOT STAGE PITTSBURGH PREDICTION.

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 21.—At least a thirty-foot stage will be reached when the crest of the great flood reaches here tomorrow afternoon, according to the prediction of Weatherman Pennington.

Reports from the head waters of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers today are disquieting and already many of the low-lying sections of river towns in the Pittsburgh district are inundated and residents are frantically trying to save furniture and valuables.

The river here is rising at the rate of eight-tenths of a foot per hour. Between 14 and 15 inches of rain fell at the head waters of the river within the last 24 hours. Warnings have been sent out to all river men and property owners along the Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio rivers.

STREET COMMISSIONER IS RESIGNED WITH INQUIRIES.

Since early this morning, Street Commissioner J. W. Stouffer has been besieged with calls from every part of town concerning damage done by rain and wind. The unpaved streets around town are in a frightful condition.

"We can do absolutely nothing," said the Street Commissioner this morning. "There are not enough drops in town to take care of the water and it must take its own course."

Probably in the Davidson Addition and on the West Side conditions are worst. One young lady due at work at 8.30 did not reach there until after 8 o'clock. Her home is in Greenwood. Taking a car down Eighth street, she was held up at Main street. Deciding to walk it was found next to impossible. Street car service did not get through until 8 o'clock.

Fearful of a tragedy the police have been notified to keep the children away from the river bank. They made a raid on the school children at 12 o'clock.

On the West Side the children are staying away from school. In two rooms in the Seventh ward building, but nine children are attending school this afternoon.

At 3 o'clock the water had climbed above the river banks at the Baltimore & Ohio shops, suspending work there.

ABANDON ALL HOPE OF SAVING MINERS

Officials Do Not Think There Is Chance to Save Entombled Men.

TWENTY BODIES ARE RECOVERED

Several Were Near the Main Shaft,
Huddled in Groups—Clothing Durned and Bodies Churned—Oklaoma Mine Is Scene of Frightful Disaster.

United Press Telegram.

McCURTAIN, Okla., March 21.—So certain are the officials of the San Bois mine that the 105 men entombed yesterday by an explosion are dead that the relief train which brought doctors and nurses from Fort Smith, Ark., returned early today. Medical aid for the entombed men will not be needed, the officials being convinced that only the grim work of searching for the dead remains.

Twenty bodies had been brought from the mine early today. All were found huddled in groups, the men evidently crowding into the slightest crevices in the main corridors in the hope of escaping the deadly gas and flames which swept through the workings following the explosion.

Several bodies were found near the main shaft of the mine, the men having fled before the flames and smoke within striding distance of fresh air only to fall into the flames. The clothing was burned from the bodies and all were charred beyond recognition

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 21, 1912.

Roosevelt's Latest Speech.
The Uniontown Herald prints Colonel Roosevelt's speech in full, to the exclusion of much interesting local matter. Even the storm of last night had to bow before it. The political storm had the call. The Herald dis-claims any endorsement of Roosevelt's speech or his candidacy, but one of its repeated chief owners is a Roosevelt candidate for delegate to the Republican National Convention from this Congressional district and this may explain the present unusual burst of enterprise.

The Herald concludes an editorial on Roosevelt's speech with the observation that it "will start something that it may take bloodshed to finish." We hope the Roosevelt campaign has not reached the sanguinary stage. After the manner in which it was outdistanced in North Dakota it cannot be considered as a serious menace.

It begins to look as if the Roosevelt boom was born to be talked to death.

The Vernal Equinox.
In theory, the vernal equinox occurs in spring with bright sunshine and balmy air, its green grass and beautiful flowers; in practice, it does not.
We have a sad example before us. The vernal equinox this year was ushered in by one of the most violent rain-storms that has visited this section in years with the prospect of a week of blustery winter weather.

If the ancient and honorable prediction concerning March is to be saved from serious discredit, the weather man will have to change his brand pretty soon. In the meantime, it might be well to remember that March weather is notoriously uncertain.

Steel prices are on the uplift.

ROUGH SCALY SKIN

LITTLE PATCHES THAT FEEL OFF AND FOUL AGAIN.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Most skin diseases are eruptions accompanied by itching. But there is another kind in which small patches of scales appear and fall off, followed by another crop. This may spread all over the body and become almost incurable.

A soothing application of Saxon Salve, our new skin remedy, should be made. This is very healing and penetrates through the outer layer of skin to the very seat of the trouble, destroying the germs.

Treated in this way, as directed by the book in the box, the scaly patches disappear and are replaced by smooth, healthy skin. Saxon Salve is wonderfully healing and soothing in all forms of skin diseases, eczema, barber's itch, ringworm, etc., and we guarantee it to satisfy you, paying back your money if it does not. Graham & Company, Drugists, Connelleville. Saxon Salve is sold in West Connelleville by P. H. Hermoning, Drugist.

WRIGHT-METZER OPENING ATTRACTS LARGE CROWDS

Store Transformed into Bower of Spring Beauty through clever Decorations.

The approach of spring was heralded yesterday by the annual spring opening of the Wright-Metzer Company between the hours of 8 A. M. and 6 P. M. Even the weather man contributed toward its success. The opening was not held in the evening but this had no effect on the attendance.

The morning visitors were mostly feminine while in the afternoon many men were in the crowd. As heretofore the decorations were noteworthy of special mention. Admiring groups surrounded the large display windows. In the upper window an Italian garden was represented. In the rear was an iron fence, the base and posts fashioned to represent a rough stone effect.

Covering the fence and posts were trailing vines while a background of flowers, including nasturtiums, lilacs and hyacinths and other spring flowers added greatly to the effectiveness of the scene. An elaborate display of millinery and suits was exhibited.

Worthy of mention were full form conventional drapes, designed over the lines of the Egyptian and Grecian models of the present vogue. The drapes were of Colbert embroidery, not bounding over light blue and white chambray satin messaline, not intended in any way to imitate a ready made gown but to suggest a style tendency by a very simple free hand manipulation of the fabric, the same decorative idea, with the exception of the fence effect, was carried out in the lower window. Here was shown a grand display of genteel furnishings.

The different apartments were converted into bowers of rare beauty and a visit to each department was as rejuvenating as a walk through a garden of spring flowers. On entering the store one was reminded of an Italian festival, the effect being perfectly carried out by the sweet singing of several dozen birds, music by Kiefer's orchestra and the beautiful floral decorations. T. E. Cox, decorator for the company, was in charge of the decorations, which were decidedly new and novel.

Along the center ledge were white enameled scrolls entwined with pink wild roses. Depending from each scroll were light capped with pink shadows, producing a subdued light, which added greatly to the effectiveness of the scene. Placed at intervals along the ledge in the dry goods department were white enameled stands decorated with lilacs and order you can get relief within five minutes.

If you will get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin you could always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or sleepless nights or headaches or stomach misery at the next day; and, besides, you would not need laxatives or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clean and fresh.

Pape's Diapiesin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than sufficient to thoroughly cure the worst case of indigestion or Dyspepsia. There is nothing better for Gas on the stomach or sour odors from the stomach or to cure a Spasmodic Headache. You couldn't keep a handier or more useful article in the house.

wild roses. Flowers were also festooned on the chandeliers. Between the stands were brightly colored drapings of a handsome design, having a striking contrast with the delicate colorings of the flowers. Tall vases of carnations, hyacinths, nasturtiums, lilacs and wisterias were placed in every available space. Ferns were also lavishly used.

The dress goods department on the first floor presented a very attractive appearance. Handsome chiffons with fancy borders, fancy silks and other new dress materials were attractively draped on the counters. The display of dress trimmings was large and elaborate. Marabou boas, which are considered very smart, were extensively shown. The display cases were attractively decorated with a new display of neckwear, gloves, jewelry and other details so necessary to Millady's wardrobe. The men and boys' clothing department in the rear of the store is stocked with spring and summer clothing.

A new department for boys' clothing was recently completed. A model line of neckwear, hosiery, shirts and other articles was also on exhibition. The shoe department was not overlooked. From the latest of evening slippers, in all shades, to the mannish shoe and Oxford were shown in many different styles.

The millinery department on the second floor was the mecca for the feminine shoppers and at times it was almost impossible to wend through the crowd. The styles in millinery are profuse and the ladies were eager to get a glimpse of the gorgeous display. Many extremely smart models from the quaint to the large Gainsborough effects were shown.

The color range is just as wide as the style range and many new and effective ideas in trimming were shown. There was the flower trimmed hat, the lace trimmed hat and other styles too numerous to mention. A noticeable feature in the spring and summer millinery is the Durban stick-up effects, which are shown extensively among the flower trimmed hats. Many smartly tailored hats in black and white were shown. The suit department on the same floor was a fitting companion to the millinery department. This department was replete with a gay display of spring suits, including the strictly tailored suit, in all colors, suits for more dressy occasions, evening dresses, wash dresses, fancy and tailored waists. The display was the largest ever on exhibition in Connelleville, and dresses suitable for all occasions may be had in this department. The children's department was not overlooked.

SLUMP IN DEMAND CAUSES A PAUSE

Coke Market Does Not Experience an Additional Price Advance.

OUTSIDE DEMAND IS EXPECTED

Consumers Who Do Not Use Connellsville Coke Expect to Enter Market With Healthy Orders, Due to Coal Strike—A Scarcity of Box Cars.

From The Weekly Courier.
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Coke has not experienced the additional advance which was being predicted late last week, for the reason that there has been little demand. A demand such as occurred last week would undoubtedly have sent prices much higher. For over a fortnight several buyers were taking spot furnace coke almost daily, and it was their buying which sent prices upward every week, until nearly a fortnight ago the regular market for prompt furnace coke established at $2.10. Occasionally higher prices than this have been paid, but the minimum can hardly be regarded as above this figure.

A more important influence is likely to come up shortly. The buying thus far has been of coke by consumers who desired to stock, or by dealers who were short on contracts. A demand is likely to materialize soon for coke from consumers who normally do not use Connellsville, and this demand will of course be of very sizeable proportions. The bulk of the by-product coke now being made is from union mined coal, and the supply of this will be shut off April 1st, for there is no question that there will be a suspension of mining, presumably of several weeks' duration. At such operations coal has been stocked in such quantities as have been available, but not in sufficient quantity to maintain coke production for any length of time.

When the supply of such coke falls short, producers of iron and steel will have before them the question of whether to pay fancy prices for coke or decrease their production of pig iron and finished steel. No doubt there will be an effort to avoid increased cost of production and hold iron and steel buyers off, and this will be done as far as possible. As regards pig iron, however, it is well known that consumers are carrying no stocks, and merchant furnaces will not be able to decrease their output to any extent and carry out their pig iron contract obligations. The scarcity of box-cars for moving round iron is still more acute, and furnishes a problem in itself, outside of the scarcity of coke caused by the prospective suspension of mining in the union districts.

There has been some dilly-dallying negotiating on furnace coke for several weeks, but nothing serious. Enough has been developed to indicate that if any contracts were made they would be above rather than below the $2 level. Contract coke is unquotable today, prompt coke being quoted as follows:

Prompt furnace $2.10 @ $2.25
Prompt foundry $2.75 @ $3.00

Pittsburgh district coal has advanced further. Consumers have purchased in small quantities at $1.50 for slack and $1.75 for medium, but not on. Pittsburgh district mines. There have been sales at lower prices than there in the past week, but such prices have really been paid on lots of a few carloads at a time. The demand from other districts, for coal for the seasonal market, is not as heavy as it was, the flurry of from one to two weeks ago having spent itself.

Shippers of Pittsburgh district coal are not satisfied over yesterday's order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, reducing the rate to the lake on cargo coal from 58 cents to 73 cents. They had asked a reduction of 50 cents and while they did not expect to get this, they did have hopes of a 50-cent rate. However, the reduction shows which way the wind blows, and when the rate is decided it is believed some considerable reductions will be ordered.

Pig iron has continued active in the local market, most of the steel casting concerns having purchased quantities in the past week, at $13.25. Valley, an advance of 25 cents caused by the large sales which occurred earlier. A total of over 10,000 tons had been done in the past week at $13.25. Valley, in some half dozen lots. Inquiry for heat continues, and the market is firm at $13. Valley, for early delivery, an advance of 75 cents from the low point last January. Foundry iron is up 25 cents, at $13.25, Valley.

MOTHERHOOD SUGGESTIONS

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly through the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (conidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Baseball Magnates Believe
This Is Going to Boost Attendance.

NO LONG, TIRESOME RIDES

Salem Field Is Out in the Country
But That Is to Get Attendance From Selling and Is an Advantage.
McKeesport Situation Is Changed.

Ohio and Pennsylvania league towns will this year have a big advantage over former circuits because of this availability of the playing parks. In most cases the grounds are right in the heart. The only deviation from this is the Steubenville park. Also Steubenville franchise has been located in a suburban short distance out of town but this is only temporary owing to the case of unpaid salaries now before the Commission.

Connellsville has been fortunate in the matter of a ball ground that is easily accessible. Attendance in Uniontown was killed largely on account of the long distance from the park to the center of the town.

McKeesport has eliminated the bugbear that has made baseball in that town almost impossible. Formerly the grounds were located in a remote park. The new Tupper park is located in the heart of the town.

Salem park will be located midway between Salem and Gettysburg, another hustling Ohio town. It is located on a level, has a short distance from both places. Even Liverpool will have a central location and Shuron and New Castle will both be provided with accessible parks.

Don Newman of the Johnstown Champs dropped into Philadelphia, his home, the other night and now his friends are preparing to give him a banquet.

The first wedding by Manager McGraw of the Giants at Martin Springs caused the stock of James the former Scottsdale outfielder and New York recruit to jump several points. Two outfielders were released and James was not among their number. Every little bit counts.

Tom Sileo has not yet signed a contract with the London team of the Canadian league. Two contracts have been sent the former Coker pitcher but Sileo has made no move to sign. The first contract had a healthy cut and Tom sent it back the next day. A short time ago he received another contract calling for a decrease but not as much as the first. Sileo has sent it the way of the first one. If he is declared a free agent by the London club, Manager Wilson of the Cokers would score a ten strike in signing him.

Favorable reports concerning the shaping up of the rejuvenated O & P league are being received every day, and from a week foundation a circuit is being built up in this vicinity with weather the financial mid-season term common to minor league clubs.

The league is being placed on a sound basis and if the fans will back up the managers in their efforts the league will be more than a success.

All the leagues that have been in have seen Connellsville the best drawing town even with a second division team. With a winning team it is believed that Connellsville would be one of the best baseball towns in the country for its size.

AT THE THEATRE.

THE SOISSON.

HOWE'S PICTURES TONIGHT

There is attractive "That is why" Lynn H. Howe's Travel Festival attracts nearly three million people each season. It affords the opportunity to travel by proxy. An attraction after all, is the only way many can travel. It certainly is the most comfortable way. The new "Itinerary" comes to the Soisson Theatre tonight and will take those tourists directly to distant lands and strange scenes without those tedious train-journeys, irritating delays, officious customs inspectors, etc., which are the bane of the actual traveler. Everyone who will travel with Mr. Howe can rest assured of getting far enough away from the local environment. There will be a perpendicular trip up the Alps in a car of the Cog Wheel Railway of Montreux and also on the Wellerhous suspension railway, during which the audience is transferred from one peak to another.

The privilege attained by Mr. Howe's exhibition was officially recognized recently in a very complimentary way by the U. S. Government. One of the objects of the great naval review in New York Harbor last November was to arouse greater pride and patriotism in our "new navy." Believing that this should not be confined only to actual spectators of the review, the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. George Meyer, was anxious that the country at large should benefit by the demonstration. He became convinced that no one uses the power that lies in animated photography to such great advantage as does Mr. Howe. Acting on this conviction, he granted Mr. Howe a camera men the very exclusive privilege of accompanying him on the U. S. S. Dolphin so that the three million "Howe travelers" throughout America might see the greatest naval review in American history at even closer range than the spectators that lined the banks or crowded excursion boats.

THE BOHEMIAN GIRL

About an extraordinary production of "The Bohemian Girl" now announced as the crowning effort of the Aborn Opera Company comes to their Soisson Theatre Tuesday, March 26, in which there are promised a remarkable and opera set of solo vocalists, big chorus, and corps de ballet, numbering more than one hundred people, with an elaborate and massive scenic environment said to eclipse their last season's production. All of the novel and appealing features of the original production will be presented including the realistic gypsy scene the dash or horsemanship up the mountains, the big fall scene with those marvellous whirling acrobatics and a cast of grand opera soloists including Miss Vera Allen formerly with the Chicago Grand Opera Company, and Miss Helen Campbell, a favored pupil of Miss Emma Dames in the role of "Arline" at the Metropolitan Opera House New York City, has the role of Countess Ambrosia. Miss Jane Herbert comes from the New Orleans Opera Company to sing the role of the Gypsy Queen, Mr. Joseph Florian the Polish baritone will be heard in the role of Davillehoff; Mr. Clifford Webb will be the "Lionel," and Miss Doris Lynn the "Budda."

"Why are we waiting, sir?" he demanded, his tone cold and formal. "Something has occurred to detain Price," answered Mahaffy. "The colonel and Ware exchanged looks. Again they spoke together while Mahaffy watched the road. Ten minutes slipped by in this manner, and once more Pentress addressed Mahaffy.

ry to have brought you here for nothing, Tom."

"Wait!" said Mahaffy planting himself squarely before Pentress.

"I consider this comic episode at an end," and Pentress pocketed his watch.

"Scarcely!" rejoined Mahaffy. His long arm shot out and the open palm of his hand descended on the colonel's face. "I am here for my friend," he said grimly.

The colonel's face paled and colored by turns.

"Have you a weapon?" he asked, when he could command his voice. Mahaffy exhibited the pistol he had carried to Belle Plain the day before.

"Step off the ground, Tom," Pentress spoke quietly. When Ware had done as requested, the colonel spoke again. "You are my witness that I was the victim of an unprovoked attack."

Mr. Ware accepted this statement with equanimity, not to say indifference.

"Are you ready?" he asked, he glanced at Mahaffy, who by a slight inclination of the head signified that he was. "I reckon you're a green hand at this sort of thing?" commented Tom evilly.

"Yes," said Mahaffy tersely.

"Well listen I shall count, one, two, three, at the word three you will be New take your positions.

Mahaffy and the colonel stood facing each other, a distance of twelve paces separating them. Mahaffy was pale but composed, he eyed Pentress unflinchingly. Quick on the word Pentress fired, an instant later Mahaffy's pistol exploded, apparently neither bullet had taken effect, the two met maintained the right attitude they had assumed then Mahaffy was seen to turn on his heels, next his arm dropped to his side and the pistol slipped from his fingers, a look of astonishment passed over his face and left it vacant and staring while his right hand stole up toward his heart. He raised it slowly, with difficulty, as though it were held down by some invisible weight.

A hush spread across the field. It was like one of nature's invisible transitions. Along the edge of the woods the song of birds was stricken into silence. Ware, heavy-eyed—Pentress, his lips twisted by a tortured smile, watched Mahaffy as he panted for breath, with his hand clonched against his breast. That dead, oppressive silence lasted but a moment, from out of it came a cry that smote on the wounded man's ears and reached his consciousness.

"It's Price!" he gasped, his words ballooned in blood, and he pitched forward on his face.

Ware and Pentress had heard the cry, too, and running to their horses threw themselves into the saddle and galloped off. The judge midway of the meadow roared out a furious protest, but the mounted men turned into the highroad and vanished from sight, and the judge's shaking legs bore him swiftly in the direction of the giant figure on the ground.

Mahaffy, struggled to rise, for he was hearing his friend's voice now, the voice of Peter, anguish, calling his name. At last, painful effort brought him to his knees. He saw the judge, clothed principally in a gaily colored, bequest hatless and shoeless, his face sodden and bleary from his night's debauch. Mahaffy stood erect and staggered toward him, his hand over his wound, his features drawn and livid then with a cry he dropped at his friend's feet.

"Solomon! Solomon!" And the judge knelt beside him.

"It's all right, Price, I kept your appointment," whispered Mahaffy, a bloody spume was gathering on his lips, and he stared up at his friend with glassy eyes.

In very shame the judge hid his face in his hands, while sobb shook him.

"Solomon—Solomon, why did you do this?" he cried miserably.

The harsh lines on the dying man's face erased themselves.

"You're the only friend I've known in twenty years of loneliness, Price. I've loved you like a brother, he panted, with a pause between each word.

Again the judge buried his face in his hands.

"I know it, Solomon—I know it!" he moaned wretchedly.

"Price, you are still a man to be reckoned with. There's the boy take your place for his sake and keep it—you can."

"I will—by God, I will!" gasped the judge. "You hear me? You hear me, Solomon? By God's good help, I will!"

"You have the president's letter—I saw it—" said Mahaffy in a whisper.

"Yes!" cried the judge. "Solomon, the world is changing for us!"

"For me most of all," murmured Mahaffy, and there was a bleak instant when the judge's ashen countenance held the full pathos of age and failure. Remember your oath, Price, gasped the dying man. A moment of silence succeeded. Mahaffy's eyes closed, then the heavy lids slid back. He looked up at the judge while the harsh lines of his sour old face softened wonderfully. Kiss me, Price, he whispered, and as the judge bent to touch him on the brow, the soft old lines faded themselves in death, while on his lips lingered a smile that was neither bitter nor sneering.

Variations on the primitive pleasure of food and drink soon suggested themselves to the fertile human mind, and one of the results was BEER. They made it so long ago that nobody knows how long. It pleased mankind—then and now—for reasons:

It is both food and drink. The life essence of the vital barley is presented as a delicious beverage—almost immediately assimilative. It gives an immediate pleasure and a permanent benefit.

It is our purpose to make the best beer in the world.
